PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

Texas Pecan Crop.

Heretofore the pecan crop, as a source of revenue, has attracted but little attention. No care whatever has been taken with the trees; in fact, in many localities trees fifty to 100 years old have been cut down solely to obtain the nuts. Before the civil war the export from the port of Indianola alone was reported at $100,000; now it is estimated that the amount actually gathered exceeds $2,000,000 in value. With proper care of the trees and systematic gathering of the crop it is believed that $10,000,000 could be realized annually. Millions of bushels are lost every year by falling on the ground and rotting or devoured by hogs, squirrels, turkeys and other animals and birds. Except in inclosed pastures no claim is made by the owners of the land to the fruitage of the trees. Mexicans and negroes are the pecan gatherers, and in some districts white children. — Texas Land and Railway Journal.

"King Henry VIII." Palace.

When any of your readers visit London, I want them to go to No. 17 Fleet street, where they can for sixpence pay their respects to King Henry VIII.; sit in one of Cardinal Wolsey's chairs; see their face in Anne Boleyn's looking-glass, and, if it is winter, warm their toes at the same fireplace where that virtuous old tyrant did his. This magnificent saloon, restored and redecored, is now presented to the spectator in precisely the condition in which it existed in the sixteenth century.

The gorgeous and elaborate enrichments of the beautiful ceiling, with the old insignia of royalty, and the carved oak paneling on the walls, combine to form a series of embellishments as fresh and salient as during the period of its ancient grandeur. It is now a barber's shop, and John Carter is proprietor! — London letter.

A Suspended Aqueduct.

A cheap suspension aqueduct was invented and used by some miners in California in 1852. A river ran between two bluffs, one of which was considerably higher than the other. Water was available on the one, but it did not "pan out" as well as that upon the lower. Some sailors, including the mate of a whaler, took up a claim, and succeeded in making a hose of strong duck, about eight inches in diameter, and stretched it from the higher to the lower hill by means of a strong rope running through it. Water was then carried through this weak hose, which could not have resisted the pressure if lowered into the valley, and the ingenious sailors realized handsome fortunes out of the land that had been hitherto worthless.

The largest and oldest chain bridge in the world is said to be that at King-tung, China, where it forms a perfect road from the top of one mountain to another.

The sun is eclipsed when the moon passes between the sun and the earth. The moon intercepts the sun's rays and casts a shadow on the earth. The moon is eclipsed when the earth is between the sun and the moon; the earth intercepts the sun's rays and casts a shadow on the moon.

A PARTY of miners passing through the Territory of Arizona had occasion to bury one of their number who died on the way. To mark the spot they cut an inscription on a stone which they found, and placed it on his grave. When the place was afterward settled it was referred to as the "Tombstone," that being the only landmark. Hence the origin of the name applied to a town in Arizona.

THE custom of "pairing" is not a new one in legislative bodies, and is frequently resorted to. When two legislators of opposite political views find it necessary to be absent from the sessions of the body of which they are members, they agree to absent themselves from the discussions of the house during a specified period. They may be "paired" on some particular question; that is, when both are absent the general result is substantially the same, for one would vote for the measure and the other against it. This is how we have the word, "paired."

THE postoffice existed in America from its earliest settlement. At the beginning it was merely a receptacle in the coffee house. There letters that arrived from abroad were deposited, and then taken by those to whom they were addressed, or delivered by neighbors. In the records of the General Court of Massachusetts for 1639 we find that notice "be given that Richard Fairbanks, his house in Boston, is the place appointed for all letters which are brought beyond the seas, or are to be sent thither, to be left with him; and he is to take care that they are to be delivered or sent according to the directions; and he is allowed for every letter a penny, and must answer all miscarriages through his own neglect in this kind."

Mistaken.

An American who started to ride from Colima to Manzanillo, in Mexico, was stopped on the highway by a well-armed bandit.

"Pardon, senor," exclaimed the latter, "but I perceive that you have my coat on. Will you have the kindness to remove it?"

The American produced a six-shooter, and, cocking it, replied:

"Senor, I am of the opinion that you are mistaken about that coat."

"On closer observation I perceive that I am," the bandit answered, and disappeared in the wood.
